WHO WE SERVE

Government Entities Our extensive work with federal agencies has given us great insight and understanding in terms of the security challenges our government clients face every day. We offer a range of strategies and solutions that protect government networks, applications, business processes, and systems from threats. GSA MAS AWARD [contract #####]

Commercial Entities C-level executives of large organizations entrust The Carter Group to advise on security threats, vulnerabilities, and controls.

The Carter Group provides full-spectrum cybersecurity risk services to government and commercial entities. This includes conducting risk assessments, designing and implementing information security solutions, and providing ongoing support to help our clients protect themselves in the ever-evolving landscape of cybersecurity.

We recognize that no two organizations are alike and because of this, we treat our clients as partners. Our partnership helps us fully understand your security needs and allows us to develop a complete and holistic solution.

The Carter Group is knowledgeable in FedRAMP, NIST, and various other frameworks. We will guide you through the complex compliance process, leveraging the unique and vast experience we've acquired through servicing federal, state, and local government, along with commercial entities.
